

This is a YouTube video of how to tune their instruments. When instruments become un-tuned it's hard to practice. This video may help.

All my string kids have music they can practice (4-6th have 3 concert songs) as well as their method books they can go through. I suggest they put on a little "concerts" for their family at home or through facetime/videos with friends and family that is not with them.

3rd graders can practice what they have learned so far.

Kindergarten general music were supposed to have a concert during this time but they can sing their songs for their parents (Old McDonald, BINGO, 5 Little Ducks, Baby Shark and our State Song).
